

PH 509: GRADUATE SEMINAR IN PUBLIC HEALTH
AN OPPORTUNITY FOR INTERDISCIPLINARY EXCHANGE OF VIEWS AND INFORMATION

SCHEDULE OF PRESENTATIONS

Spring, 2008
Thursday, 5:05-6:20 p.m., 243 HPER Building

- January 10 Introductory Remarks and Seminar Procedures
-Charles B. Hamilton, DrPH, MPH
Seminar Coordinator
- January 17 “Glimpsing the Complexity of Youth and Political Violence”
-Brian K. Barber, PhD
Professor, Department of Child and Family Studies
Director,
Center for the Study of Youth and Political Violence
The University of Tennessee
- January 24 “There has never been a better time to quit! Tobacco Prevention and Control Efforts in Knox County”
-Carrie Thomas, MPH
Tobacco Prevention and Reduction Coordinator
Knox County Health Department
- January 31 “Dog Bite Prevention: A Community Epidemic”
-Michael H. Sims, PhD
Professor & Director, Instructional Resources
College of Veterinary Medicine
The University of Tennessee
- February 07 “Pandemic Influenza, Emergency Preparedness, and Their Relationship to ‘Real’ Diseases”
-Timothy F. Jones, MD
Deputy State Epidemiologist
Tennessee Department of Health
Communicable and Environmental Disease Services
Nashville, Tennessee
- February 14 “All Disasters are Local: The Vital Role of Civil Society”
-Gregory V. Button, PhD
Assistant Professor, Department of Anthropology
The University of Tennessee

- February 21 “Families with Disabilities”
-Mavis Moore, RN
School Nurse
Knox County Schools
- February 28 “Current Efforts for the Prevention and Intervention of Child Overweight and Secondary Complications”
-Juliann M. Chavez, MS, RD, LDN
Clinical Nutrition Specialist, East Tennessee Children’s Hospital
Doctoral Candidate, Department of Child and Family Studies
The University of Tennessee
- March 06 “Domestic Violence”
-David G. Kitts, PhD
Training Specialist, Criminal Investigation Division
Knoxville Police Department
- March 13 “Team Leadership: An Effective Model for a Community Health Center”
-David McRay, MD
Former CEO and Medical Director of Dayspring Family Health Center
Jellico, Tennessee
- March 20 Spring Break
- March 27 Make-up Session (if needed)
- April 3 “HIV/AIDS”
-Kenneth D. Phillips, PhD, RN
Professor and Associate Dean for Research
College of Nursing
The University of Tennessee
- April 10 Celebration of NATIONAL PUBLIC HEALTH WEEK 2008
National Theme—Climate Change: Our Health in the Balance

-Connie Givens, MEd
Director, Coordinated School Health
Tennessee Department of Education
Nashville, Tennessee